Joint Knowledge Online (JKO)

Individually focused. Globally shared.

JKO is providing 24/7 global access to online training courses and Web-based training resources. The capability delivers Web-based access on military classified and unclassified networks to required, theater-entry, and self-paced training to prepare for joint operations and training exercises. It is used by combatant commands, Combat Support Agencies, Services and other DoD organizations for individual online training requirements, distributed small team staff training and to augment collective events and exercises. JKO is based upon a modern, scalable architecture that can readily adapt to meet emerging needs. The distributed learning architecture integrates government off-the-shelf products and commercial interface standards, reducing total overall costs and enhancing sharing of digital training content through a standards-based, non-proprietary distributed learning capability. Learning resources include media- rich courses, tailored, immersive scenario simulation applications for small group exercises, area-specific language and culture training, Senior Enlisted Joint Professional Military Education courses, and a video library.

JKO is accessed on military classified and unclassified networks and mobile devices. Information on JKO is found at http://jko.jten.mil for unclassified access and http://jko.jten.smil.mil for classified. Direct access to JKO courses with a Common Access Card (CAC) or login and password is available by going directly to https://jkodirect.jten.mil or http://jkolms.jten.smil.mil.

To login to JKO you must have an active user account. DoD military and government civilians who have been issued a CAC are able to self-register for a JKO account. Individuals that do not have a CAC, but have a government or military email account (i.e., ending in .mil, .gov, nps.edu, or dodea.edu) may obtain a login and password account. Individuals and multi-nationals that do not have a CAC or government or military email account may request a sponsored account. A link with instructions for requesting a sponsored account is provided on the JKO login page.
